

Here's what people say about Ravay Snow's school visits!

What teachers say:

It was a joy to see how one —like you —can inspire so many.

Cassie Rider, 1st grade teacher

Your presentations were well-planned, and kept the students fully engaged. The students were enticed into writing by your vivacious modeling. The framework you provided made them feel safe to experiment and be creative. It was exciting to see both the students' and parents' enthusiasm for writing during the evening presentation.

...Thank you for your quality services.

Debbie James, Elementary Literacy Coach

We often think of you and Hildegarde, and we hope to hear from you again. The fourth and fifth graders were very motivated by you and your suggestions. Thank you for making them interested in developing their skills.

Susan Rajala, 4th/5th grade teacher

My class really enjoyed your story. You are so enthusiastic and easy to listen to. They were quite inspired.

Mrs. Miley, 1st/2nd grade teacher

Ravay Snow came to my second grade class, read her book to the children and helped them to map out story ideas of their own...What an inspiration Ravay was to them and what results we got with their writing!

Martha Fleming, 2nd grade teacher

Ravay Snow, author and illustrator, holds a Ph.D. in education.

What students say (unedited):

I hope you had as good a time as we did during the workshop. Thank you for all of the tips and for reading your book...

Kayla, 4th grade

...how long did you want to be an author? You really inspired me.

Brianne, 3rd grade

You taught some really good ways to right, especially how to add a little bit of humor that goes a long way.

Jakob, 4th grade

You are my favretis book riter.

Killian, 1st grade.
